

Mrs. Moll's Kindergarten Gazette

Progress should be at 63% this week in all paced subject. Please use this as a guide for where your student should be. You should follow the pacing guide. Know that if you are following the pacing guide then your student will finish the curriculum by the end of the year.

Dibels results are in! Our scores were pretty good for the middle of the year benchmark. We can't back down though! We need to keep working hard so we can ensure that our kindergarten students are ready to be successful first graders. I will be sending out new reading groups hopefully by the end of the day tomorrow. I have an appointment at 5 though so it may be Sunday before I can get them out to you as I still have a couple of students to test tomorrow. Thank you for your patience. Your student will start attending that group in reading block. They will also be invited to that reading group for our small group reading sessions. I look forward to seeing your student continue to grow and shine as we work through second semester.

A parent shared this website with me earlier this week. She said it has really been helpful to her student, and it is FREE. Please check it out if you think your student would benefit from it. <http://www.teachyourmonstertoread.com/>

As always, let me know if there is ANYTHING I can do to help!!
