

Mrs. Moll's Kindergarten Gazette

- I hope this newsletter finds everyone doing well! This was our first FULL week of curriculum. Your student should be at 3% progress for all of the paced subjects. Please make sure that you are logging progress and attendance daily. I will begin tracking progress this Friday. I'm excited to see how hard everyone has been working!
- Your student should have two weeks worth of Study Island Assignments completed by this Friday, August 23. I logged in tonight, and I saw that several people still had assignments to complete. Please make sure these are getting completed. There are few things worse than trying to play catch up.
- Our Class Connects are starting to really pick up. Please note items on the dates to remember so you'll know why we aren't having sessions. We cancel Class Connects for personal days, sick days, and meetings.
- Please note that if your student is attending the reading block Class Connect then they will be able to mark their phonics lesson and literature lesson off for the day. If they attend the OLS math session, starting next week, then they'll be able to mark the math lesson off for the day.
- Please make sure you are logging time spent in Class Connect in attendance. :)
- I know everyone is working really hard at home! I really appreciate all of that hard work, and I can't wait to see your student in Class Connect!
